New Refugees Outside Haifa

JERUSALEM, (CP)—Two ships crowded with approximately 1,200 Jewish refugees from Europe anchored just outside the Haifa breakwater Monday, providing a new problem for British authorities striving to halt illegal immigration to a restless Palestine.

Arrival of the two vessels brought to almost 2,700 the number of Jewish refugees detained aboard ships at Haifa because of lack of proper immigration certificates.

Still another vessel carrying illegal immigrants was reported en route to Haifa under escort of a British destroyer and at least one more was believed at sea.

The newest arrivals were identified as the Yagur, carrying 700 refugees, and the Henrietta Szold, a one-masted sailing craft loaded with 500 passengers—half of them children and 30 of these babies in arms.

Both ships were well-stocked with water and food, some of which bore UNRRA labels.

The refugees said they sailed from a French port June 29, but refused to say where they had obtained their supplies.

The Szold apparently was manned by the refugees themselves, for no trace of a crew was found.

Appearance of the two ships caused a stir among the 1,400 men and women already on the harbor. Board and on the refugee ships Hagana and Jewish Warrior.

The situation in Haifa itself continued, meanwhile, to grow more tense, with British military authorities maintaining rigid security measures and allowing few civilians in the city area.

A dispatch from Nicosia, Cyprus, said British military authorities were rushing barred wire and building materials to Famagusta and other British-controlled areas.

Seek Compromise On Palestine Plan

By John M. Highwater

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Suggestions for compromising Britain's plan to partition Palestine are being made by a group of Jewish leaders.

In the background is the intensive struggle of various factions having access to the White House and the state department. Some approve the partition idea and some reject it completely.

Both sides have been trying to influence Mr. Truman's decision, but it appears at the moment that the weight of the state department opinion finally has been thrown behind the partition principle, provided it can be modified to make it more acceptable to opposition Jewish leaders.

The Jewish spokesmen opposed a British proposal to refer the problem to the general commission. This was because the commission, even when an alternative proposal was offered by the United States, Alexander that the matter should go to the general commission only in the event of a disagreement in the general committee.

Although the invitation was accorded a unanimous vote, a roll call vote of 15, with three abstentions, was recorded. The proposal in its entirety was approved by the Big Four, each with one seat—claiming that Australia had shown herself a "temperamental" member of the committee.

He proposed Ethiopia for membership of the secretariat, and White House spokesmen said the proposal declined, and the conference finally agreed without a vote that it was essential that Albania should be heard. The proposal to invite Albania, presented by Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia, was bitterly opposed last week by Greece.

The third conference week was opened by State Secretary Byrnes of the United States, who assumed the chairmanship without fanfare for many years.

Ottawa Will Seek to Ease Building Materials Shortage

By John M. Highwater

OTTAWA, (CP)—Reconstruction Minister How Monday announced five measures to help relieve the lack of materials from hobbling a government program with an objective of providing 80,000 new homes by March 31, 1948.

One of the measures was to encourage construction of all kinds which would come to an end within a month.

Sketching his five-point plan to speed effect immediately, the minister said "earliest consideration" was being given to the problem of providing an effective method of channelling building materials into housing of a desirable type, whether it is being built by government or private enterprise.

He said the government would be taking steps to ensure that materials would be made available in large measure despite the fact that the government's immediate steps were:

1. To complete 1946 construction by the end of the year. 2. To complete 1947 construction by the end of the year.

Clarence George Snider, 42, Rabbit Hill district, Ernest Skogland, six, Kingman.

Three other persons, in the boat from which Snider fell during a fishing trip at Lac Ste. Anne, six miles northwest of Alberta Beach, were saved.

Hundreds of Rocket Missiles Cross Sweden from Baltic

STOCKHOLM, (AP)— Ghost rockets—mysterious spool-shaped spinning objects with fiery tails—have become a common sight in Sweden, and military officials no longer doubt that the country is in a target area for experimentation with remotely-controlled missiles.

Since July 1, newspapers have published reports of the flying fireballs nearly every day. In the beginning many believed excited eye-witnesses had seen nothing more ominous than meteors. However, between July and July 12 military authorities received 300 reports of the missiles and since that time added reports have poured in daily. Fragments examined by scientists gave little in the way of clues, except to indicate the presence of coke and other common materials.

Authorities, promising a communique on the results of the investigation within a few days, have cautioned Swedish newspapers not to publish the names of places where the ghost rockets appear, so far as they would not be provided with important data. Official quarters declined to speculate on the source of the missiles, but it was believed elsewhere the rockets came from some place along the Baltic coast of Germany.

Military authorities said the missiles evidently passed over Sweden in a huge curve. Some reports indicated the objects carried a device for self-destruction, and military experts said some apparently had exploded in the air. The longest flight of any of the missiles, so far as military experts could determine, was about 600 miles, as compared with the range of 35 to 45 miles for the first German V-2 rocket bombs.

Ask Resignation Mitchell, Gordon

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Resignation of both federal Labor Minister Mitchell and Prices Board Chairman Donald Gordon, was demanded Sunday by the British Columbia Federation of Labor (C.F.L.) in annual convention here.

Delegates attacked the federal wages policy and decision of the regional war labor board to limit pay increases to 10 cents an hour until recommendations of the parliamentary committee on industrial relations are made public.

Seamen's Union Demands 'Justice'

MONTREAL, (CP)— A threat of possible strike action was contained in a letter sent to Labor Minister Mitchell Sunday by the Seamen's union, which stated "unless the government immediately prosecutes the lake shipping operators for their violations of the controller's orders, we shall have no other recourse but to strike to get justice for the seamen."

Government Loses On Japanese Entry
 By Richard Sabourin

OTTAWA, (CP)— No Japs who left Canada and fought in the enemy's armies will be allowed to return to Canada, even if they are Canadian citizens.

British Columbia members on both sides of the house gathered together Saturday to throw out a proposed new section in the immigration act which would allow Canadian citizens who had left here to fight in enemy armies to return to Canada.

On the return of such people, Resources Minister Glen pointed out, they would be subject to punishment for their crime.

But Jap-consented B.C. members would have none of it, and the section was dropped from the bill. Even Veterans Affairs Minister Mackenzie opposed the government measure on this point.

"Nobody who went to Japan to fight against us should be allowed to return," said Mr. Mackenzie.

American equipment will be used in a new air service between Belfast, Northern Ireland, and Prestwick, Scotland.

Few Have Right Knowledge Of Basis of Civil Rights

By Canadian Institute of Public Opinion

TORONTO, (CP)— It has been said that the greatest threat to human freedoms lies in the people taking them for granted without understanding how they were won and preserved.

If that proposition is admitted, Canadians may well ponder the significance of the findings of the latest Gallup poll covering an accurate sample of adults of all classes throughout Canada.

Reporters of the institute asked the public two questions: "What do you understand by 'Magna Carta'?" and "What do you understand by 'Habeas Corpus'?"

Elementary school teachers would be dismayed if their pupils made as poor a showing on these questions as Canadians of voting age have done:

Correct definition 18%	The Writ of Magna of Habeas Carta. Corpus Vague 15%
Incorrect definition 7% Don't know 60%

The ignorance of these fundamental founts of freedom is general throughout all areas and classes. Even the better-income groups, amongst whom are a high proportion of the better educated and the better informed, averaged only 30% correct on Magna Carta and 40% correct on Habeas Corpus.

Following are brief definitions of each, as given in the Oxford dictionary: Habeas Corpus: A writ requiring the body of a person restrained to be brought before a judge or into court for the purpose specified in the writ. (2) that the lawfulness of the restraint may be investigated and determined.

Magna Carta: The great charter of English personal and political liberty obtained from King John in 1215. Its articles provide, amongst other rights, (1) that justice shall not be sold or denied; (2) that no man shall be deprived of his liberty or property except upon the judgment of his equals or the law of the land; and (3) that no taxes except the customary feudal dues be levied by anyone without the consent of the national council.

Undersea A-Bomb Sank More Ships

ABOARD U.S.S. MT. MCKINLEY OFF BIKINI, (AP)— The underwater atomic bomb at Bikini sank more than four times the ship tonnage destroyed by the aerial burst but only prolonged study will determine which would have killed or maimed more personnel.

Admiral Blandy, commanding the atomic tests called Operation Crossroads, issued this summary of the two explosions:

July 1 (aerial): Sunk: Cruiser Sakawa, two transports, two destroyers, total tonnage 22,020.

July 23 (underwater): Sunk: Carrier Saratoga, battleships Arkansas and Nagato, an oiler and a landing craft, total tonnage 85,228. In addition, a badly damaged landing craft and a floating drydock finally were destroyed with demolition charges.

The submarine test also badly damaged the cruiser Pensacola, transport Falcon, destroyer Hughes and submarine Plotfish, moderately damaged seven vessels and slightly damaged eight, he said.

Fifty other ships were listed as not damaged or damaged negligibly, although many were damaged by the aerial explosion.

International Fair Planned in Canada

OTTAWA, (CP)— Plans are being prepared for an international trade fair to be held in Canada probably in the summer of 1948. Trade Minister Mackinnon announced Sunday.

While the government and Canadian exporters previously had participated in international trade fairs in other countries, this would be the first occasion on which such a fair would be held in Canada, he said.

Mr. Mackinnon explained the purpose of the fair would be to "provide an easily accessible meeting place for buyers and sellers from all parts of the world." It would not be an exhibition open to the general public.

The minister said a "most exhaustive" investigation was made into the question of shoes and it was found that the allegations were without foundation.

As far as shirts were concerned, said Mr. Howe, the report was based "entirely on gossip" and no shirts have been destroyed or sold as scrap by War Assets corporation.

Deny Destruction Of Shirts, Shoes

OTTAWA, (CP)— Allegations of the destruction of usable property such as shoes, shirts and towels in the Montreal area have been found to be "wholly without foundation," Reconstruction Minister Howe said Saturday in the commons.

He was replying to John Diefenbaker (Prog. Cons., Lake Centre), who asked about the possibility of establishing a commission to inquire into the reported dumping of shoes in Montreal's Pointe St. Charles district and the destruction of a quantity of khaki and blue shirts and towels.

The Cost of Living

The cost of living index of Canada, which is calculated on the basis that the average cost in 1935-39 equals 100, has risen to 120.8 by July 1, 1946. By the end of July it had gone up to 125.1. This rapid rise of five points in four months is shown to be serious in the fact that in the whole period from July, 1942, to July, 1945, the total increase was only 2.5 points.

The July 1 cost of living index since 1939 has been as follows:

	Cost of Living Index	Increase Since Aug. 1939
1939	100.8
1940	105.6	4.8%
1941	111.9	11.0%
1942	117.9	17.0%
1943	118.5	17.6%
1944	119.0	18.1%
1945	120.3	19.3%
1946	125.1	24.1%

The index for the past six months has been as follows:

	Feb.	Mar.	April	May	June	July
1945	119.9	120.1	120.8	121.2	121.5	122.0

These figures are for the total index.
Many people, when they think of the cost of living, think mainly of the price of food.
The increase in the cost of food since August of 1939 is 45 percent. The index is based on the assumption that a family spends 31 percent of its income for food, 19 percent for housing, 6 percent for light and fuel, 12 percent for clothing, 9 percent on home furnishings and services and 23 percent on miscellaneous items.

These indices, of course, do not take into account the present inferiority in workmanship and materials which makes many commodities and household products, but it is enough to show that this country is dangerously close to the inflationary spiral to which Donald Gordon refers.

There is only one cure for inflation. There is only one method by which prices may be kept down. And that is by production.
Increased production is Canada's only hope. Anything that slows up production is a threat to the national welfare and the individual welfare of every Canadian family.

"Terrible" is the Word

A.E. Forsild, chief botanist of the national museum at Ottawa, has given a press interview in Calgary in which he has some harsh criticism to make of Alberta's roads.

"Alberta," says Mr. Forsild, "is very fortunate in having national parks at Jasper, Watson and Banff. They are a great asset from the point of view of the tourist trade and they are a very valuable source of scientific information regarding Alpine flora. But the roads to these parks and throughout the rest of the province are terrible.

This is very poor and direct language.
Unfortunately it seems to be justified. "Terrible" is just the word for a good many Alberta roads.

The highway between Edmonton and Calgary, for instance, has had spots that lately have been showing results in broken car springs and other damages to vehicles.
Parts of this road are said to be under repair.
But surely repairs could be speeded up so that summer and fall traffic could be accommodated decently.

Mr. Forsild refers to the handicap placed against the tourist traffic by bad roads. With many goods and foodstuffs in short supply, Alberta is not primarily concerned with tourist trade this year. But Alberta will be deeply concerned with tourist trade in future years. And these poor roads, particularly between here and Calgary, are the poorest possible advertisement for future tourist traffic. One disgruntled tourist in 1946 can keep fifty potential tourists away from this province in years to come.

But entirely apart from the tourist consideration, the people of Alberta themselves are entitled to a better roads service. As Mr.
Forsild implies, what is the use of having these marvelous parks if Alberta roads are kept away from them by inadequate highways.

A complete re-survey of the highway situation should be in order.

Another Empire Paradox

That most puzzling of all institutions, the British Commonwealth of Nations, has provided yet another paradox by the appearance of one sister nation, the United Kingdom, to complain of the conduct of another sister. It is India who resents the application of the color line to her nationals living in South Africa—and not without some cause.
So we are to believe what travellers and writers tell us.

That India should feel cause for grievance of this kind is unfortunate, because, to use the popular phrase, "it isn't British." Indeed, at the outbreak of the war, the British Empire was so large that it was literally true.
The city that the color line in South Africa has been inherited not from British settlers —ancestors but from the Dutch settlers who seem to have latched the British genius for living amongst native races.

When in the middle of the 17th century the Dutch East India Company "permitted" a few families to settle in its domain, not so much as a colonization scheme as a scheme to secure a few caretakers, these had to do at first with Pygmies and Hottentots—about the most primitive of primitive people whom they regarded as something little better than animals. This set up a condition which the coming of the British was hard to correct—it has no doubt improved but not corrected even to this day. Nevertheless, the fact that a man like Cecil Rhodes, says a recent writer, "was able to go almost unattended to the great chief Lobengula's kraal at Bulawayo was proof that the blacks understood that the Englishman was a better friend to them than the Boer."

But it is hard to down a prejudice that seems more ingrained even than in the southern States. A while ago the Smuts government set up a fund of $15,000 a month to provide food for thousands of hungry native children, which Nationalist (Afrikaander) leaders denounced as a waste of good food.
Another example cropped up in Nationalist opposition to a grant of $60 a year to natives disabled in the war. This was denounced as "silly humanitarianism."

It is this legacy of race prejudice, descended not from the British but the original Dutch settlers, from which the East Indian settler is now suffering. From this distance it seems as if their spokesmen had followed the correct course in bringing the facts to the United Nations. If it does no more than shock the affected portion of South Africa's white population into a fitting sense of man's unity in the Father, however "silly" they may deem such a useful purpose will have been achieved.

A Disquieting Rumor

Ottawa lost no time in denying a rumor, of Quebec origin, that the government will "in a few weeks" declare an amnesty for deserters and absentees.

Whether the Quebec story was intended to draw a statement from Ottawa one way or the other one can only conjecture. As a matter of fact it did neither, for even the denial was accompanied by the rider that "it would not be unreasonable to believe that such an action would be initiated at a later period."

It is this rider which is alarming. We prefer to think it would be in fact utterly "unreasonable" to believe that any government of Canada would contemplate even the possibility of welcoming home several thousands of unworthy citizens who deserted their posts, their homes, their families and their country to save their skins.

Let the pursuit of the deserters be continued—or resumed or initiated as the case may be. But let it be relentless in fairness to thousands of brave Canadian women who have been widowed, children orphaned and parents left childless although husbands, fathers, sons were made of sterner stuff.

An Eastbourne (England) clergyman has urged the town authorities to post notices on Beachy Head endeavouring to dissuade persons who go there contemplating suicide. The town is taking special notice of whether such notices would be likely to accomplish their object. And then there is the further possibility that, by a subtle process of suggestion, the notices might put ideas into heads that hadn't thought of.

"NS Has Three Good Beef Days" says a Montreal Family Herald headline. The Ottawa Citizen is disappointed because it had expected to read of a beef shortage grievance committee, and it turned out only to be a livestock exhibition.

The Road Ahead

By HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

When the first units of the Canadian Army went overseas there were commanding officers who refused to recommend men for commissions. This snobbishness was finally humiliated and the Canadian Army got most of their officers from the ranks—and they were good officers. As a group they were probably the best officers, because they understood the point of view of the men as well as that of the officers.
view of their commanders.

But we never got rid of the social bias for the selection of officers. I remember one sergeant who was recommended for a commission after outstanding service in Sicily and Italy. When he appeared before the selection board he was asked one question: "What was your father?" His answer was: "A coal miner." The board said: "No." Then said: "Oh! Well, let us know what our decision is later."

That is laughing at the C.C.F. interview. The sergeant was turned down.

In spite of this kind of thing the Army did commission a large number of bright and capable young men from the ranks. Many of these were young men who joined the Army at the outbreak of war while they were still under 20. Some came from high school, some didn't even finish school. When the war in Europe ended they volunteered for further duty, because they felt that they were best qualified for careers in the Army. They volunteered

The Budget Debate - 2

By CHESTER BLOOM

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA—It is undeniable that Angus MacInnes of Vancouver has been the star of the C.C.F. attack on the budget, producing a number of authoritative statements and statistics which need a good deal more attention than they have been given.

The meat of his attack was contained in his sub-headline, "The Progressive—Conservative 'no confidence' amendment, namely, that the budget fails to provide for the investment of public funds to bridge the gap between the total national investment required to assure a high national income and the employment opportunity available to the nation."

The sentence embodies the whole socialist philosophy—that capitalism is unable to assure steady employment because it cannot provide opportunities for investment.

The meat of his argument was that the budget fails to provide for the investment of public funds to bridge the gap between
the total national investment required to assure a high national
income and the employment opportunity available to the nation.

In 1944, the report of the James committee estimated that under full employment, such savings would be about $1,500 millions. But to maintain full employment, those savings would have to be invested in capital goods plants, machinery and like capital material.

MR. MACINNES then proceeded to quote an article by J. R. Beattie of the Bank of Canada in the Canadian Journal of Economics and Political Science, tending to show that an investment of $1,500 millions annually in capital plants by private capital is impracticable.
For example, Mr. Beattie's article as quoted by Mr. MacInnes made these statements:

"That even enormous industrial war-time expansion had not involved expenditure of more than a billion dollars annually, public and private, in plant, equipment and building."

"That the total pre-war investment in electric power fixed assets was less than $1,500 millions."

"That $1,500 millions would cover the cost of all residential housing built in Canada in twenty years."

"That $1,500 millions equals nearly half the total fixed capital in Canada in 1937."

That even building of new industry comparable to Canada's pre-war automobile plants would require less than three weeks' saving

ARGENTINE CLOTHES

Editor, Bulletin: Reading through your interesting paper today came across a feature by Ernie Hill "Argentine Suit is an Adventure."

I should like to ask Mr. Hill where and how he acquired his ill-fated suit—I happen to be an Argentine-born American and have spent most of my life in and around Buenos Aires. Both the ready-made clothes I have and the ones made by my seamstresses have been admired for their cut and make by my friends here.

My father and brothers and all the men I know down there buy their clothes in the stores in that country, and as far back as I can remember I've never seen them act as Mr. Hill's did.

Do you know that when the then Prince of Wales visited Buenos Aires he remarked on the good cut and make of Argentine men's clothing?

Our cities are certainly not up to the standards of British clothes, but that has nothing to do with the tailor's work.

I do hope you will do something to correct the very erroneous impressions Mr. Hill's feature must have left on your readers.

OBJECTION

Editor, Bulletin: Being an Edmonton citizen and a tax payer, I was somewhat disgusted to hear over my radio that a Mrs. O.J.
Walker has made application to the city council for assistance in the publication of her book regarding a history of Edmonton.

Do the city fathers of our city expect taxpayers to enter into the publishing business? I think the city council has enough to look after future of the city of Edmonton. Let the book publishers be getting their books published.

There have been many books written about Edmonton in the past few years. Mr. Edmunds had a good one about three years ago.
Mr. Canelton had one since then.
And this year another one appeared. Of course the latter is not devoted entirely to Edmonton, it is devoted to the Province of Alberta. Did the City of Edmonton assist the authors of these books in getting their books published?

As far as I know, Edmonton has produced some very good writers in getting their books published.
Murphy, etc. Book publishers were only too glad to publish their books. I don't expect the city council to assist them. If the city council is to assist them, Mr. Walker get her book published. I will write a book too and ask the city council to assist me. Will they do it for me?

BIRTHDAYS

Kansas City Star

It was said of William Wordsworth that he got the best of his critics simply by outliving them.
At the age of 80, George Bernard Shaw seems to be well in line for the same achievement. He found that people are softening up toward him, even to the extent of referring to him as "the old man." With a lot of hubbaloob, which is hard on Mr. Shaw, he admits, it isn't that bad when you reach 80.
The celebrations should be eased up, although they may be partly the result of former critics. There ought to be a law Mr. Shaw, a law that would prohibit any birthday observance after the age of 80.

SWINING THE CLASSICS

(Chicago News)

What annoys me in hearing a classical piece swung is that it becomes neither good classical nor good swing, but a sort of hybrid monstrosity combining the worst elements of each type of music. The melodic theme is still there—but the tempo is wrong, the phrasing is sour, the musical idea has become cheapened and thinned out. It's as criminally as pouring a bottle of bird-chips over a choice fillet mignon.

More sets of twins are born in Canada than in the United States per million births, but more sets of triplets and quadruplets are born in the U.S.

Evidence exists that the Japanese printed from wood blocks as early as the 11th century.

Today in Europe

By Randolph Churchill

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin LONDON—Indications are that Britain's Labor Government has been available. Lord Beaverbrook Daily Express would shoot up from 3,300,000 to 4,000,000 within a year, but the other hand, the National Union of Journalists and the working newspaper men in Fleet street seem more than ever keen.

The explanation in official circles is that, with so many grave problems on their hands—Palestine, Egypt, India—they have no time.

This seems a little disingenuous, for the government itself would not conduct the inquiry. All the cabinet has to do is to make a decision that there is to be a royal commission and select the members.

More probably the real reason is that the judgment and violent harangues of Attorney General Sir Hartley Shawcross have alarmed the government. First they appeared among the public, then they said that they intend to tamper with the freedom of the press.
Meanwhile, speculation about the past, present and future ownership and control of the London morning tabloid, The Daily Mirror, continues. Since a large proportion of shares are held in the names of anonymous nominees, it is impossible to discover who are the largest shareholders. But it is common knowledge that dealers in these shares are active and that a number of the largest shareholders are anxious to increase their holdings. Some of these purchases may be on behalf of some group who would like to obtain control of the company and change the present management and policy. Others may be purely investment.

AT THE MOMENT, the circulations of all British newspapers are frozen by paper rationing, and this factor has greatly limited free competition. The accepted view in Fleet Street is that the competition for these shares is active and that a number of the largest shareholders are anxious to increase their holdings. Some of these purchases
may be on behalf of some group
who would like to obtain control
of the company and change the present management and policy. Others
may be purely investment.

One possible solution is to allow newspapers to use their extra allocation of paper. Then, by exchanging with potentially larger circulations could go ahead and find new readers, while those who like to have smaller circulations and want to a more serious reading public could provide fuller news reports for those who need them.

BEGGING FOR RIDES

Kingsford Whig-Standard

We wonder how many hitchhikers would stand on a street corner, begging passers-by for the price of a meal or a drink.
We also wonder how many of them realize that they are begging just as much as the bums and panhandlers who thus eadge their living off others. They aren't begging food or drink, but they are begging transportation.
And anyone who begs is a beggar, be it money, marble or chick.

time to come; and that bawling the fact will not make for a par-

British authorities planned a month ago to take over the giant combine, much larger than Krupp, but this was called off at the last minute while the future of the Ruhr and Rhineland was being discussed at the Paris Big Four talks.

Thinks Production To Curb Inflation

WINNIPEG, (CP)—Ray Atherton, United States ambassador to Canada, said increasing production and almost unparalleled world grain crops soon will reduce the danger of inflation to a minimum.

"Canadian and Americans as a whole seem self-indulgent with the bogey of inflation, just as they were a year ago with the bogey of unemployment. That unemployment fear has now largely vanished and there is actually a shortage of skilled labor. That is what I think will happen with this inflation scare."

3 Dead, 7 Injured In B. C. Accidents

VANCOUVER, (CP)—The toll of week-end accidents stood at three dead and seven injured Monday in British Columbia.

Abraham Siemens was fatally injured near Abbotsford when an automobile carrying a wedding party was in collision with a truck. Four others were injured, including his sister, Lydia, who was to have been married, and the prospective groom, Henry Haman.

At Princeton, B.C., Roy Martin, a veteran of the First Great War, was found dead after a fire early Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Battie. Death was believed caused by smoke suffocation. Three others were injured.

The body of 31-year-old John Kozak was washed ashore in English bay, he disappeared Saturday night while swimming.

The pocket money of children in Hants county council homes in England has been increased to meet present day values.

Bevin to Demand Speed-up At Paris Peace Conference

By Charles Nichols
PARIS—The men who are seeking a formula for European peace in an age of rockets and jet-propulsion are still trying to find some way to give speed to the intricate business of international negotiation.

Looking back over the first fortnight of their labors, the Paris conference of 21 nations have seen with alarm that they have accomplished only a formula of rules in which to conduct the main work of the conference—the framing of treaties with the Axis allies. At this rate, the four to six weeks estimate for duration of negotiations is considered doubtful; the delegates expect they may have to call a recess in September for the United Nations meeting in New York and return to Paris to finish their job there later.

Philadelphia Strike Cuts Bread Supply

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—Seventy percent of Philadelphia's bread supply was cut off Sunday by a strike of nearly 2,000 workers in demand of a wage increase of 20 cents an hour.

Ernest Bevin who took his seat in the senate chamber of Luxembourg, Monday for the first time since his recent illness, is expected confidently to call first of all for a general speed-up. He is a man who likes to see things done at once quickly, and the tedious routine of the conference has annoyed him so far is even more intolerable to him than that of the other delegates. He is the son of a farmer and the son of a farmer.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Sumner Welles, former undersecretary of state, said Sunday night the United States is losing the support of the world's smaller powers by trying to march in step with the Soviet Union.

Mr. Welles said in a broadcast the confidence which the small powers placed in the United States when Franklin D. Roosevelt was president has "become sadly weakened."

Machinery Plants Plan No Lay-off

TORONTO, (CP)—James S. Duncan, president, Massey-Harris Company, Limited, said Sunday night it was the intention of the company to resume manufacturing operations in any department of its plants as soon as sufficient materials were available.

Mr. Duncan had stated Canadian plants of the company at Toronto, Brantford and Woodstock, Ont., have been closed down for an average period of three weeks as a result of a shortage of raw materials and supplies.

Find Jap Gyroscope In Vancouver Park

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Police have a new mystery to solve in Vancouver—the finding of a heavy wooden case containing a gyroscope in Stanley Park Saturday. It is believed to be of Japanese manufacture.

The gyroscope was in a box, a foot long, seven inches wide, with Japanese characters on it.

A Canadian citizen, apparently bearing instructions for operation of the instrument, was found in the case.

Police believe the box was deposited in Stanley Park recently which they believe, is delayed, but been in the open for any length of time.

Hunting Season Cut in Dominion

OTTAWA, (CP)—Resources Minister Glen announced Saturday that in no part of Canada will the hunting season for waterfowl exceed 2½ months this year.

Mr. Glen said shooting hours would be limited to the period from half an hour before sunrise to half an hour after sunset. Reductions in bag limits for both ducks and geese were decreed.

The hunting seasons for waterfowl will begin at various dates across the country but nowhere earlier than Sept. 1. (In Alberta, the season opens Sept. 1.)

A decrease in waterfowl was attributed partly to drought and chiefly to the loss of habitats after the end of the war.

Even closer restrictions were announced in Washington. The United States hunting season will extend for 45 days only, the daily bag limit for ducks is seven, and the daily shooting hours are an hour shorter than in Canada.

Resources department officials elaborating on the minister's announcement, said the Canadian limit for the waterfowl season last year was 3½ months.

In Ontario, Quebec and Manitoba, the new shooting hour limits would mean no change but in the other provinces, hunters had been free last year to shoot from an hour before dawn until one hour after sunset.

The daily bag of ducks has been cut generally at 12 except on the prairies where an extra three mallards may be added.

Seasonal totals vary according to regions.

VEIN 1: Exposed on an island (see map above) for 40 feet, 18 inches wide. Visible gold can be seen at random in the quartz throughout the 40 feet. Two grab samples assayed $32.00 and $172.00 respectively. Both ends of the vein disappear in shallow water of the bay as indicated. The vein is visible for 150 feet under water to the Southwest.

VEIN 2: This vein is visible, for a distance of 40 feet under shallow water, apparently 20 inches wide, with visible gold in one place. The vein appears to be well mineralized.

VEIN 3: This vein is visible under shallow water for a length of about 50 feet. The surface of the vein appears to be over 20 feet wide; two x-ray holes were drilled from the ice at a 45 degree angle and encountered over 60 feet of quartz with visible gold in the core in four places.

VEINS 4, 5 and 6: These veins have been well located as indicated on the map above. They have not yet been prospected.

Open diplomacy and full publicity have aggravated the fault. Deliberate knowing they speak to the world, speak for the record and for the ages. The unadorned process of ironing out international differences, becomes like a heated debate where every member brings any subject he likes for the benefit of his constituents. The process tends to sharpen rather than smooth over conflicting points of view—as it has during the first fortnight of the peace conference—and diplomatic observers from wholly democratic countries are heard to sigh for the good old days of diplomacy behind closed doors.

Work on Compromise
As a working compromise, Harold Nicolson, the British diplomatic commentator, has suggested that speeches for the record be mimeographed and circulated, not read on the rostrum. His suggestion is being taken very seriously.

British Generals Make Army Plans

By Frank Swanson
LONDON.—Britain's highest ranking generals are meeting week-end in a staff college, Cambridge, to hammer out a pattern for the army of the future.

The purpose of the meeting is two-fold: first, to evolve a new tactical doctrine for generations until the new chief of staff announces next week his proposals for "streamlining" the prewar force into a model body. Voluntary recruiting was at its lowest ebb in a decade, the high rate of discharges threatening to outrun the intake of recruits to such an extent that it appeared likely the present wartime mobilization of 18 to 23-year-olds would have to be extended indefinitely until sufficient "regulars" enlisted to provide the required 190,000 or more per year.

It is upon success of the new voluntary recruiting that the shortening of the general service period must depend, and it is upon the general "salesmanship" of merits of the new army that the number of voluntary recruits depend. The number of volunteers so far is 80 percent short of the army recruiting target.

Indicative of the importance attached to the meeting by the government, is the fact that Prime Minister Attlee will attend sessions at least once during the week. Representing Canada is Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, chief of staff at national defence headquarters, Ottawa, who has come over especially for the occasion.

Decisions taken at the Cambridge conference this week will have a great bearing upon teachings and organization of Canada's postwar army since the dominion's army is based upon the British model both from organizational and tactical standpoints.

Of 15 vicars and 85 curates of Southwark, Eng., diocese serving as forces chaplains, only 20 have returned home.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 12.—(CP)—In the "man-of-the-year-in-sport" department, we nominate Harry Sewell.

Harry has the boat-mental congestion at Horseshoe Bay, that famed west-coast fishing spot where the big ones stay around to prove it.

This is Mr. Sewell's busy season, with tourists and fishermen turning up from all over the lower mainland and the United States to catch with him the big ones, the "phantoms" or just take in the scenery.

Every Thursday, Harry lets out 10 of his best inboard motor boats complete with fishing tackle and bait for free to convalescing veterans from Shaganash Military Hospital.

That means that around 50 of Canada's wounded veterans are able to do just what they have dreamed of doing through the din of war and the long siege of loneliness in hospital.

HIGH SCHOOL athletes at Nelson, B.C. have been hanging up fantastic times at their track meets.

For instance, the 440 was run in 52.2, the half mile 2:11.4, and the mile in 4:32. However, suspecting track officials checked up on the 440, the half mile track is only 422 yards around—eight less than the regulation 440, and 18 less than the distance that the 440 had been set for.

This means that the half-mile events have been run on a shorter and the mile 72 yards under.

On the CUFFS—Prices soared throughout the United States with the removal of price ceilings and controls, but golfers on the Seattle public links never suspected it would result in a 20 per cent boost in green fees.

On the subject of golf, Point Grey golf club's Dun Duke of Argyle, Sutherland has come up with an idea, born, possibly of desperation.

The "Duke" is currently conducting a free class for caddies, teaching them the know-how of good bag-trailing and course etiquette.

Torch of Terror

Burns in Poland

By Larry Allen
RZESZOW, Poland (AP)—The torch of terror burns often among the Polish villages along the San river, deep in southeastern Poland and far from the Russian frontier.

Many homes are burned and Polish settlers struggling on trees by the forest, including a few Communist sympathizers, mostly Ukrainian nationalists, with a sprinkling of one-time Nazi SS officers.

The terror has been terrorized this section of Poland, but their activities became more pronounced after the government started moving Ukrainians from the Polish territory into Soviet Russia under a repatristic agreement between the two sources. The Ukrainians attribute the attack to being forced out of their villages. The Poles make way for Polish settlers. The Ukrainians claim that the Poles were luring in the province of Rzeszów. The Ukrainians were organized to levy against the farmers for foodstuffs. If the farmers refused, they were killed. The Ukrainians and men and women carried off to the forest hideouts. It is charged. At Terka, bandits were in the area. The Ukrainians and Poles and a Ukrainian who was friendly to Poles. The Ukrainians reported that the bands numbering several hundred attacked the village of Wolkowysk. July 14 and 15 and terrorized the surrounding area. The Ukrainians and five bands were killed.

Held as 'Witness' In Boy's Slaying

MONTREAL (CP)—Capt. J. A. Quenneville of the Quebec provincial police said today that a 13-year-old boy, who is being held as an "important witness" in connection with the Jan. 4 Winnipeg slaying of a 13-year-old boy, Peter McGregor, will be arraigned late Monday on 41 charges of burglaries.

Knox, who gave his address as 1000 St. Charles, Baile, was arrested Saturday with a Japanese, Yoshino

Testimony 23, of Montreal, of the territorial charges. Both of the with a robbery and kidnapping at least 41 summer cottages in Champlain townships area during the summer of 1935. The amount of $12,000 were stolen and that $7,000 worth of stolen goods have been recovered.

It was further stated that Knox's description fitted with that of the slayer, circulated by the Winnipeg police chief, George Brett, but that he was not certain that after a preliminary investigation he doubted if Knox had any direct connection with the provincial police suspicion was aroused when "special calibre cast ridges" for an automobile were found in the area of the slaying.

Winnipeg police had said that

Poverty Is Rife In Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, (CDN)—Poverty reaches almost unbelievable proportions in Mexico City. It holds the grip of hopelessness and despair on the faces of the millions who live in a hodge of shacks and street facades.

Some last sit and hold out their hands, just after dark. Others whine, tuneless songs. Ancient crones hold babies wrapped in rags—and the suspicion is that the babies are dead, because children increase revenue.

Fire-Eaters on Streets

You can see everything on Mexico City streets. The beggars, the fire-eaters. The more prosperous of the beggar caste, own German-made hurdy-gurdies, and a few have a few dollars. They are the same old story. They out on the streets at 7:00 in the morning. They call it a day around midnight and go back after the morning. They have no homes. Down in the slumming places which cater to the beggars.

These institutions charge 10 cents a day for a person a night—about two cents Canadian. They consist of one long room, and often 300 persons try to live in a space five Canadian corners.

Each "family," whether it's one person or 10, is allotted floor space of about eight feet by six feet. There are no cots, no blankets, no chairs.

In one corner there will be Children? Next to them will be an Indian couple on their honeymoon, to the capital city. Then an ancient bearded woman.

Children try to play in an area around the sleeping families. Children are born in places like this. People are poor.

Earn $2 Per Day

The average Mexican laborer works with no particular skill, earns 10 pesos a day. A day's work or a day's costs 30 pesos, and bread costs 10 go far. Food, such as Canadian corn, costs 10 pesos. A day's work costs 10 pesos. Most Mexicans. They eat beans varied with bean soup. Uggard, take time out to spoon up unsavory soup, out of the pot. Uggard, dirt pots right on the sidewalk.

Social reformers hope that some-

"The poor get poorer in Mexico," declared the Communist Party's campaign slogan. "The rich get richer."

The poor get poorer in Mexico because the rich get richer, the Communists claim. To the wealthy political reformers add:

"And the rich get richer."

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

REGINA. (CP) — David Lewis of Ottawa and A. M. Nicholson, member of the Regina City Council, were re-elected to the Communist Party's executive at a meeting of the C.C.F. national council Saturday.

Normandy Greets King and Claxton

CAEN, France. (CP) — Prime Minister King and his wife arrived in Caen, France, on Sunday, the 24th, to visit the battlefields of Normandy. In a score of towns, welcomed him with demonstrations of admiration and friendship.

Tributes to the dominion and her fighting men who fought through Normandy two years ago, were the tour, which probably was the biggest event for the Caen sector of the northern French province since the campaign which smashed the Germans.

Everywhere the party drove Mr. King received a warm and moving welcome. Everywhere Normans who were touched by the visit of the prince.

"Mr. King asked me to thank Parisians for the warm reception they gave him. A garden gate of ornamental iron is a commonplace, familiar object. But—as an iron product—it opens up vistas along which can be seen many small businesses engaged in making miscellaneous iron and steel products.
